ANNUALS & BEDDING PLANTS - Potted

All of our Annuals are transplanted, sturdy, healthy plants either in plant bands or pots, and should not be confused with plants out of flats.

Annuals should not be planted before end of April. Nothing is gained in our area by planting sooner. Exposure to cold will cause needless setbacks to young plants.

HYBRID RHODODENDRONS

Our Rhododendrons Must be Seen to be appreciated

Imported Direct from Holland

These fine specimen plants we are proud to offer you as an outstanding value. They are beautiful, low branched bushy plants, have survived severe winters and dry summers out in the open. Many show buds READY TO BLOOM THIS SPRING. Rhododendrons being scarce, we were fortunate in securing an excellent selection, many varieties in all colors, from deep red, purple, white, pink, etc.

S i z e

The age of the Rhododendron has not so much to do with its size as some varieties grow more compact than others and really should be grouped into three classes: Low, Medium, Tall.

Superb Varieties - Your Choice

MANY WITH BUDS. NICE SIZE FOR BEGINNING OR ADDING TO YOUR COLLECTION.

CARACTACUS. Warm crimson with a tinge of purple throughout. Free flowering. Though a compact grower, it is one of the largest growing hybrids.

CATAWBIENSE BOURSALT. Pleasing bluish-violet medium size flowers, forming large round trusses. Very hardy, and one of the easiest to grow, often growing where others fail.

CATAWBIENSE GRANDIFLORUM. Bright violet flowers in large trusses, very heavy deep green leaves. Exceptionally strong grower.

DR. H. C. DRESSELHUYS. Probably the best completely hardy red hybrid, though an upright, open grower. Large trusses of flowers, large dark green leaves.

DUCHESS OF TECK. Rose colored flowers. Compact grower.

EVERESTIANUM. A very hardy, heavy and dependable bloomer with large rosy lilac trusses. Foliage dark green, neatly arranged.

EDWARD S. RAND. Attractive rich trusses, foliage lighter, dull green, leaves somewhat crinkled or wavy. Dwarfish compact in growth.

FASTUOSUM FLO. PLEN. Flowers very double mauve. Compact.

IGNATIUS SARGENT. In spite of its open growing habit, this hybrid's deep pink flowers keep it ever popular. Very hardy.

JOHN WALTER. A fine medium red variety with smaller pointed leaves. Very nice in front of taller, more open growers.

KATE WATERER. Dark rose with yellow center. A color needed to complement the pink to red color range.

- LEE'S DARK PURPLE. Flowers deep bluish purple, a fine symmetrical grower, very compact. Leaves small, deep green and neatly arranged.
- MADAM CARVALHO. White, opens with a lilac cast on its large blooms, fading to a good white.
- PARSON'S GLORIOSUM. Our favorite! Good size flowers - orchid color, nicely arranged on the bush. A fine grower of medium height, and graceful form.
- PARSON'S GRANDIFLORUM. Purple red flowers, heavy dark green foliage. Strong grower, excellent in mass plantings.
- PELOPIDAS. Cerise red; highly recommended to us by our Dutch grower.
- PROFESSOR F. BETTEX. Scarlet red. New.
- ROSEUM ELEGANS. Pleasant medium pink, this rhododendron is perhaps the most popular of all. No compromise of beauty with "easiness to grow" here, this one has both. A fast, neat grower that stays compact, and heavy to the ground. A well-established plant is a veritable mountain of bloom in May. Your collection should start with Roseum elegans.
- VAN DER HOOP. Flowers of the same red as Dresselhuys, but a more symmetrical and compact grower than Dresselhuys. Very satisfactory.

O T H E R V A R I E T I E S

GRASS SEED

CORNUS FLORIDA

- DOGWOOD

Thrive in either shade or sun. When transplanting use good soil, being careful not to plant them deeper than they were in the nursery. Planting too deep is usually fatal. It is very important that newly planted dogwoods be wrapped spirally with 3 or 4 inch wide strips of burlap from the ground up about two feet or more for protection against borers. Leave burlap on for two growing seasons or until it rots.

Watering during July and August helps insure good bud set for the next spring's flowers and keeps foliage looking rich green until the change to autumn colors.
